

The Mechanics of the Universe,
source of everything

Noon/Midnight as Life/Death cycle

The new born baby coming to life (at right) and the old being (at left) preparing to die... Both have wings.

Midlife and goal achievements

Fish icons running counter clockwise:
Time is relative and flexible (as seen below)

Springs as the timeframe connection:
Time is flexible

When the pendulum stops, the time stops and we are connected to Now

Time as a convention, a protocol
Time & space are interconnected, interdependent.
The opening here meaning an
Time can be altered, manipulated.
